1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Huang et al. Huang discloses a carrier assembly including a carrier 24, a ball valve seat 32, a stator 8, 81, 82, attached to the carrier and a ball valve 1.

3. Claims 1-22 are allowed.

4. Applicant's arguments filed 10/11/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant contends that thing 32 is not located thing 24 and that element 3 is the valve seat component. Element 24 of Huang clearly encloses and supports both a stator assembly 8, 81, 82 and element 3 and thereby is a carrier as claimed that supports and carries the ball valve seat 3 identified by Applicant. Element 32 as shown in figures 3A and 3B is the seat against which the ball 11 actually rests and is part of the upper surface of the element 3.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
